Frankfort, Kentucky

As the doors of Elkhorn High School close behind us never to open to us again as students, we leave behind us probably the happiest years of our lives. It is our hope that this 1955 edition of "The Elk" will help to bring back memories of those years gone by and help you to relive those happy occasions.

Dedication

In memory of her thoughtfulness, kindness, and willing assistance throughout our school days at Elkhorn, we, the senior class, dedicate this 1955 edition of "The Elk" to Mrs. Colvin with the hope that she will remember us with as much love and devotion as we shall remember her.

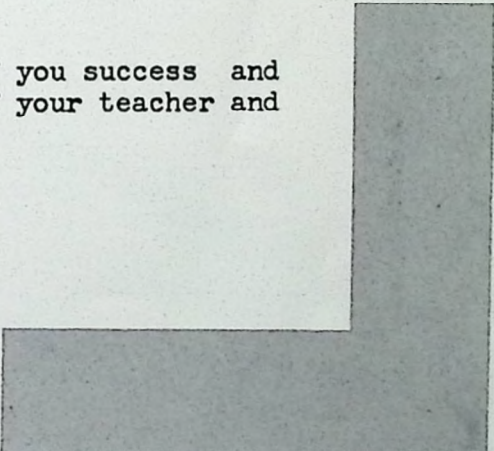

To the class of 1955:

The honor you have bestowed upon me by this dedication is greatly appreciated. It will be a memory I shall cherish ever along with the memory, too, of a class that to me was, for several reasons, always special.

I am proud of your accomplishments through the years, and as you face the many opportunities that lie ahead, my interest and love will go with you all the way.

That life may hold for each of you success and happiness is the very sincere wish of your teacher and friend.

Essie Colvin

A word of parting

To the young men and women of the 1955 graduating class: I wish to congratulate you. During the past four years there has been the laughter and the fun as well as the frowns and the hard work. There has been the discarding of many childish ideas and the adoption of the new and the mature. You have fulfilled the duties and responsibilities. You have written a chapter in the history of Elkhorn High School.

May you remember with kind thoughts the classmates, the faculty, and all other people who have contributed to this milestone of your progress in becoming useful and commendable citizens and worthy members of the greater Elkhorn Alumni.

"To everyone there openeth
A way and ways and a way
The high soul climbs the high way,
The low soul gropes the low
And in between on the misty flats
The rest drift to and fro.
But to everyone there openeth
A high way and a low
And every man decideth
Which way his soul shall go."
